PUBLIC COMMENTS - Mr. Allen Steinberg of Champaign asked the board to address the absence of local book sellers in the LINC catalog section of the LTLS website. Ms. Ison and Mr. Sciacca explained to

Mr. Steinberg the exclusion is a result of an automated component and pointed out that a list of local retail bookstores is provided at a different location on the website. The board expressed their appreciation to Mr. Steinberg for his concern.

PRESIDENT’S REPORT - Ms. Reidner reported that the fourth annual Edible Book Event sponsored by the University of Illinois Library is to be held on Tuesday March 31st at the University YMCA. Ms. Reidner was happy to tell the board that the Ogden-Rose Public Library is now Wi-Fi enabled and that librarian Sandra Wienke has created a Comcast Newsmaker interview for the library. On a final note Ms. Reidner informed the Board that Ms. Ann Miller had passed away. Ms. Miller was a long time friend of the library community in Ogden.

DIRECTOR’S REPORT – Jan Ison

Ms. Ison asked the board for any comments on the recently created Trustee Connections E-Newsletter and asked that they continue to help LTLS acquire and maintain a current list of Trustee email addresses. Ms. Ison and Ms. Boze presented an informational video from the South Central Library System in Madison, Wisconsin. Ms. Ison and Ms. Boze visited SCLS to evaluate the delivery system there. One of the more outstanding innovations of SCLS is their use of a tote and cargo moving system featured in the video. Other different ideas included placing item barcodes on the front of items for quick ownership identification and a pro-active approach to helping their member libraries design delivery areas when they build new, add-on or remodel. The fleet of vehicles at SCLS is maintained by an in-house mechanic and some of the vehicles are purchased from leasing companies. These vehicles have been well maintained for use as rentals and are economically priced. It may be possible for LTLS to locate similar vehicles for our use in the future. Ms. Ison and Ms. Boze will be visiting the Metropolitan Library System next for more new ideas and fresh perspectives on delivery service.
